

From: training@theglobalhealthnetwork.org
Subject: The Global Health Network Update July 2015

Web Version | Unsubscribe

 Like  Tweet

HAPPY 5th BIRTHDAY TO GLOBAL HEALTH TRIALS!

Today marks the fifth birthday of Global Health Trials. In five years, the community has grown massively thanks to all its members, and as a thank you there will be massive celebrations – see below. Happy birthday everyone, please celebrate with us! #GHT5years

Leave your birthday messages on our interactive map! Global Health Trials' global community is leaving birthday messages, photos and videos on the interactive map here. Add yours now and share how Global Health Trials has helped you! www.globalhealthtrials.tghn.org/ght5years/

You can also leave messages on Facebook, LinkedIn or Twitter #GHT5years

NEW: Global Health Trials WorldWide Seminar Series Launches

To mark this special occasion, a fantastic new initiative is launched, the Worldwide Seminar Series, with free seminars in locations all around the world. Anyone can get involved and we'll be continuing this regularly! For more information visit Global Health Trials; we'll publish updates as the seminars occur.

Q&A with Principal Investigator Trudie Lang

Join us for some Q&A with Professor Trudie Lang about Global Health Trials, why it was created, and what the future holds..... Read more here.

African Research Excellence Fund

New Programme of AREF Research Development Fellowships

The new programme of AREF Research Development Fellowship is designed to enable talented, African postdoctoral researchers to develop their own research ideas and funding proposals through placements of up to 9-months in leading research organisations (with a link to <https://globalhealthtrainingcentre.tghn.org/aref/>)

Fantastic International Trials Day Competition To Launch Shortly.....

Global Health Trials collaborators have cooked up an exciting competition to mark both the 5th anniversary and International Trials Day. Keep watching Global Health Trials for more news.....

Trial Management Resources!

We've collected resources for trial managers from around the world, and put them together in one easy-to-use portal – read more here!

Update your profile, get involved in discussions and post a blog

Want to get more from the network? If you have not yet already why not try the following:

- Add your image to your profile
- Write a brief biography

June 2015: Research Careers Month!

Global Health Trials will once again run Careers Month in June. Experts in different areas – for example 'Women in Science' - will be on hand to answer your questions, and there will be plenty of career development resources, a list of relevant training courses and jobs available.

Need a research site? Use SiteFinder

Explore over 130 global research sites on SiteFinder and match them to your research study requirements. Register your study or research site here to take part.

Planning a study? Use the ProcessMap

- Start writing a blog post or ask a question in the community sections of member sites

Step-by-step guidance for planning successful global health research projects. Find out more here.

New to The Global Health Network?

View the introductory video here.

Explore many more informative video presentations in the seminar series here.

We want your feedback

Take The Global Health Network users survey and provide your feedback on the sites and tools available – take the survey here.

Read what other users say about The Global Health Network in the feedback section and see how their research projects have benefitted from taking part. Read more here.

The Global Health Network 2015

All feedback and suggestions are welcome, to get in touch please contact: info@theglobalhealthnetwork.org.

You are receiving this news update as a registered user of The Global Health Network. If you do not wish to be part of this mailing list please unsubscribe here.

Like Tweet